Handicap index

- Clubs will use the players handicap index to qualify for either Hardy A (handicap 10.0 and under) or Hardy B (Handicap 8.0-18.0), then follow the new process to calculate your playing handicap for the course of the day. This could see a Hardy A player whose handicap is 10, play off 8 or 12 (depending on the course index) or a Hardy B player with a handicap of 11 playing off 9 or even an 18-handicapper playing off 20.
- The Maximum handicap index will be as follows:
 - Hardy A Under 10.0 (Handicap Index)
 - Hardy B Between 8.0 and 18.0 (Handicap Index)
- Strokes Received:
 - Singles – FULL difference
 - Betterball – 90% difference

This will be reviewed again at the 2022 AGM after a full season of running the new handicap indexes.

AOB – The following three amendments have been added to the rule:

- Non playing captains are allowed to walk the course and offer advice to his players.
- Caddies – if caddies are required then the two captains need to agree this is acceptable. This is ensure fairness in matches and not create a two against one mentality.
- The Hardy plate cup finals could be played over one leg if the captains agree – if so a bonus ball can be used for home advantage.
